User Agreement

This User Agreement ("Agreement") governs your use of the generative AI services ("Services") offered by Hallam Students' Union.

By using the Services, you agree to these terms.

AI Limitations

You understand that AI-generated text may have errors, biases, or be misleading. You are responsible for verifying the accuracy and appropriateness of all output.

No Guarantees

The Services are offered "as-is". Hallam Students' Union does not guarantee the reliability, accuracy, or suitability of any generated output.

Your Responsibility

You alone are responsible for how you use the generated output. You must ensure your use complies with all laws and ethical standards. Hallam Students' Union is not liable for any damages related to your use of the Services.

Information You Supply

You understand that queries submitted should not contain any personal information about you or any other data subject.
